

REWORK

A different kind of business book for different kinds of people.

Based on the book by Jason Fried and David Heinemeier Hansson (37signals).

BE A STARTER

Forget 'Entrepreneurs.' It's a loaded term. You don't need an MBA or a suit. You just need an idea, a touch of confidence, and a push.

IG NORE

The 'Real World' isn't a place. It's an excuse. It's a justification for not trying. It has nothing to do with you.

the REAL[®] WORLD

It has nothing to do with you.

PLANNING IS GUESSING

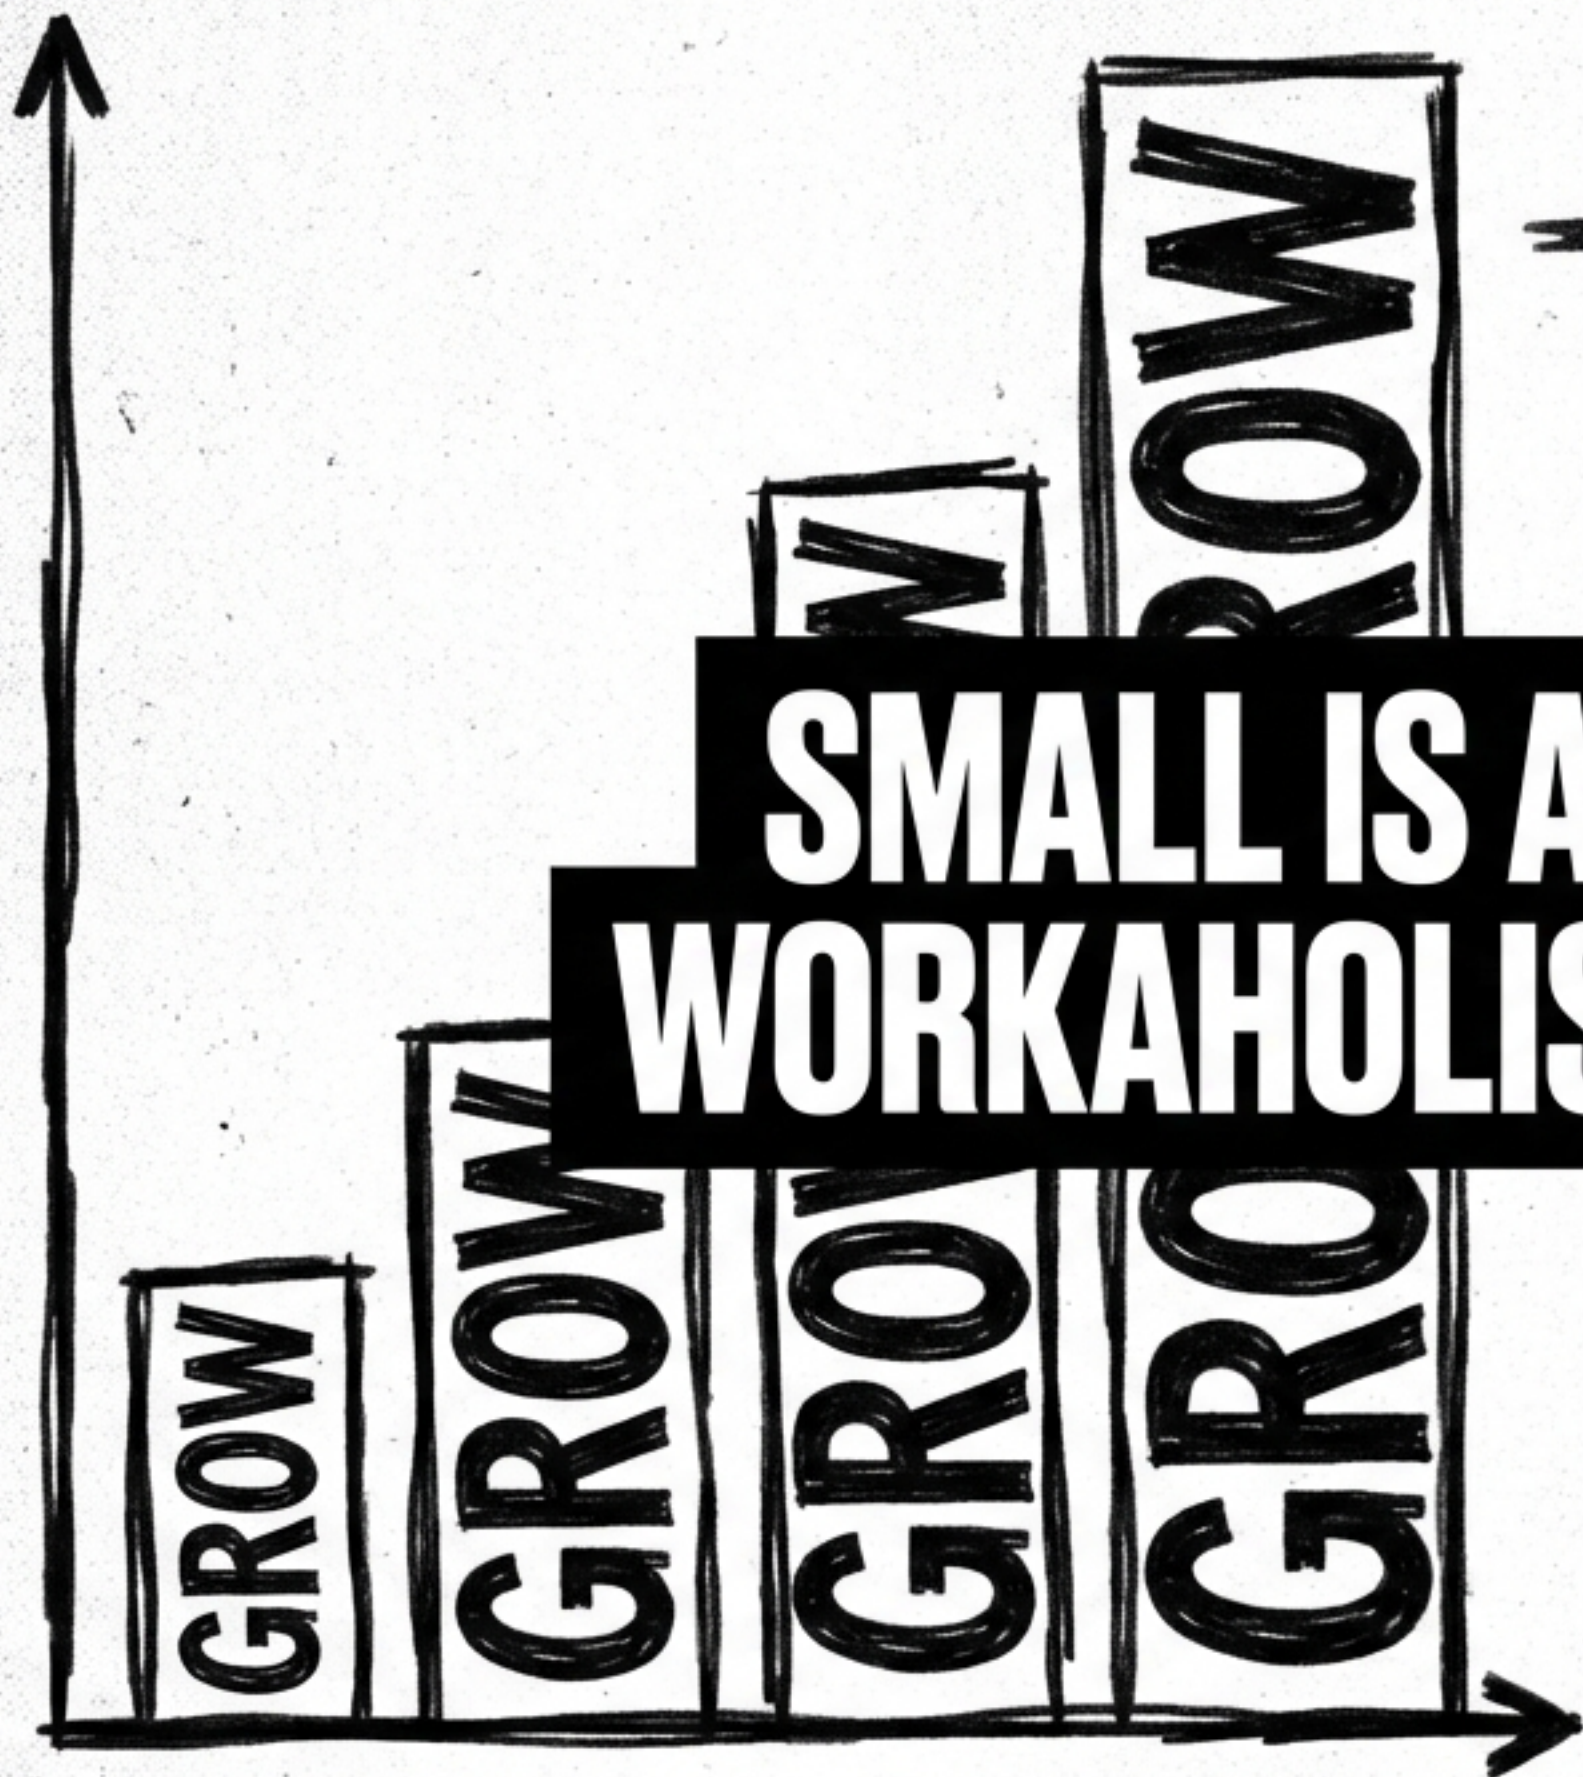

THE MYTH.

Writing a plan makes you feel in control of things you can't control.

THE REALITY.

Decide what you are doing
this week, not this year.
It is okay to wing it.

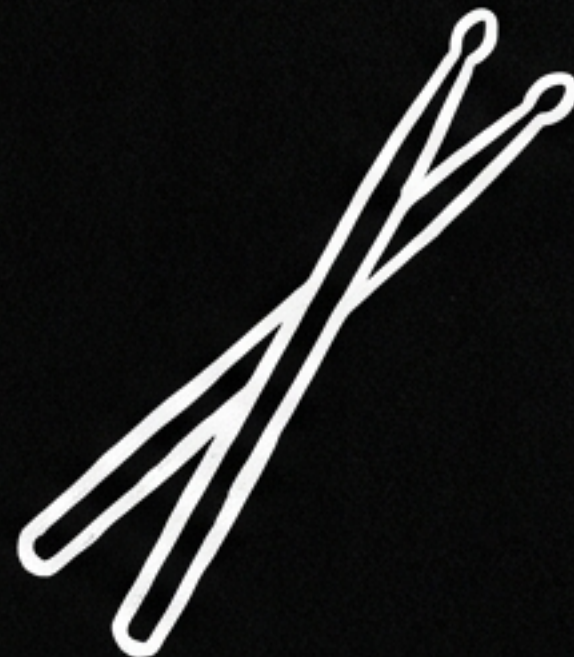

→ WHY?

SMALL IS A DESTINATION.
WORKAHOLISM IS A DISEASE.

SCRATCH YOUR OWN ITCH.

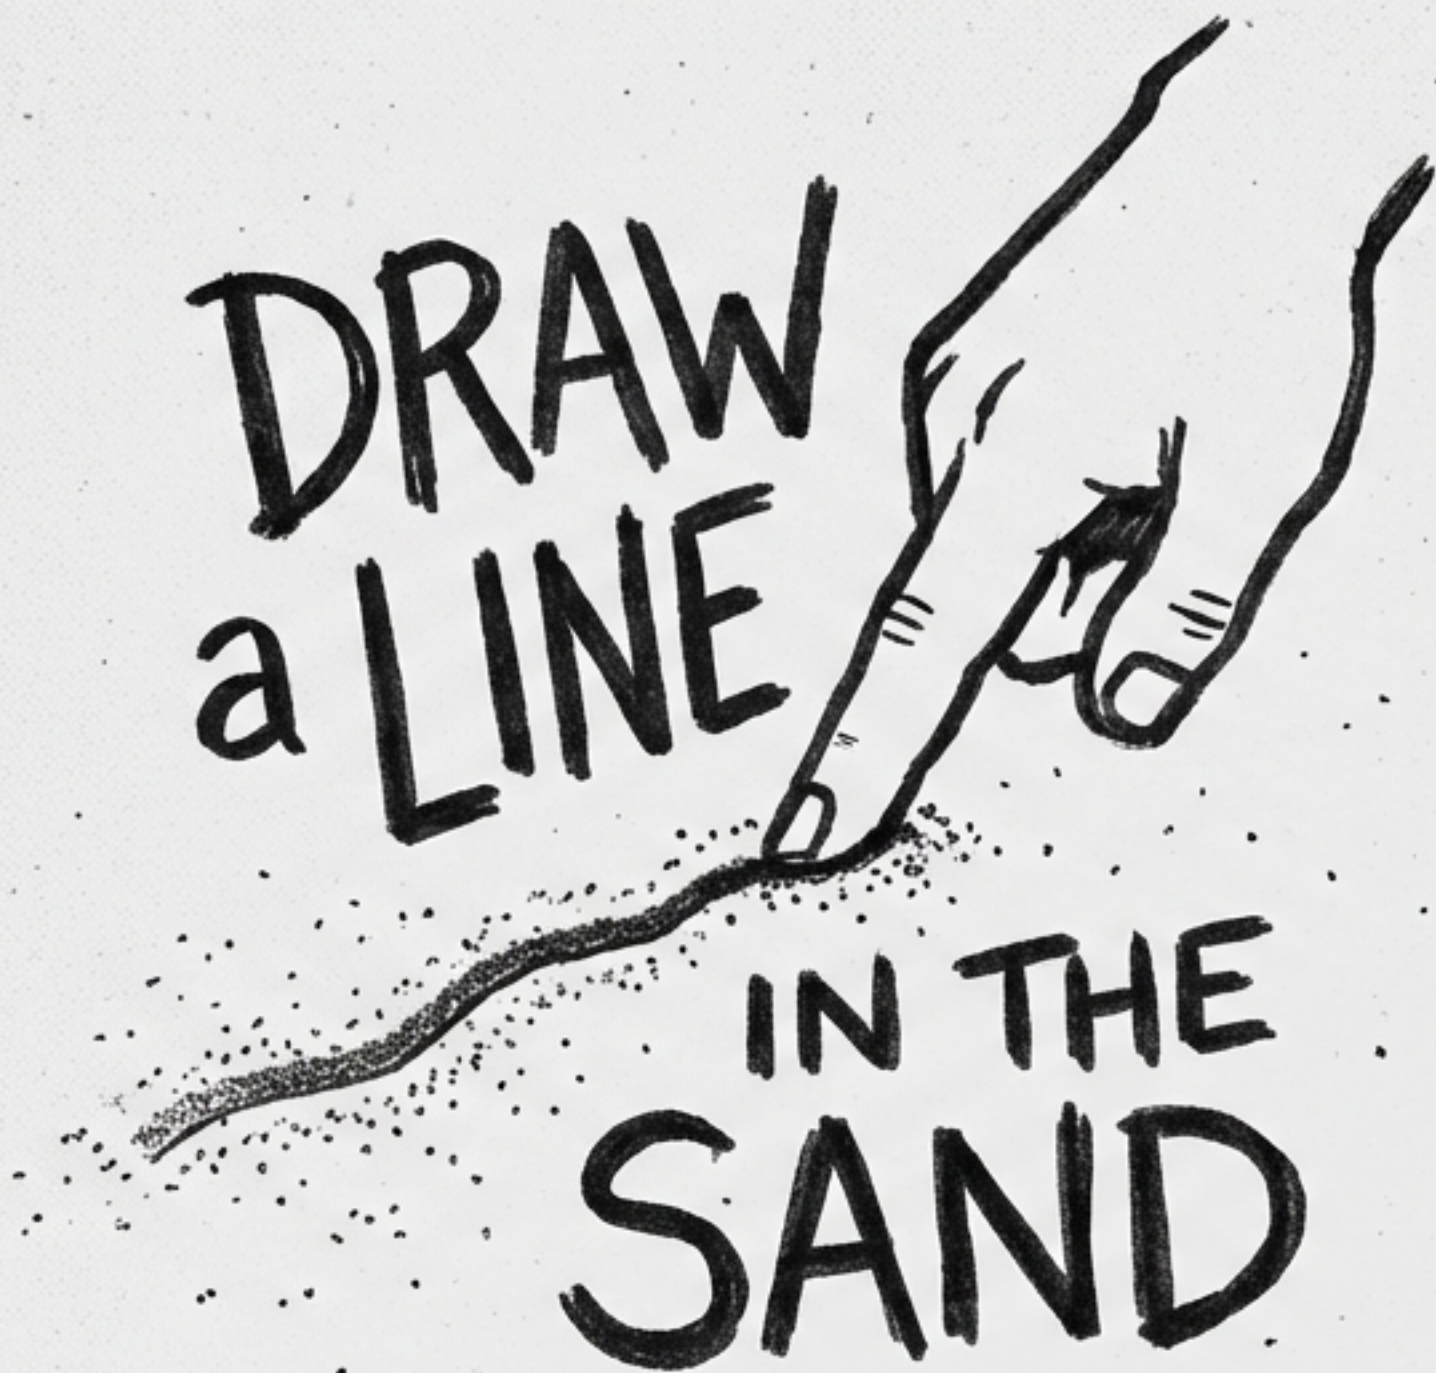

Dyson hated his vacuum. Bowerman ruined a waffle iron to make Nikes. Vic Firth couldn't find good drumsticks. They were their own focus group.

THE PERFECT TIME NEVER ARRIVES.

Squeeze out a few hours.
Instead of watching TV or playing games, work on your idea. If you want it bad enough, you make the time.

IF NO ONE HATES IT, NO ONE LOVES IT.

- Whole Foods: No Coke. No Snickers.
- Vinnie's Sub Shop: We close when the fresh bread runs out.

START A BUSINESS, NOT A STARTUP.

Startup = Magical thinking.
Business = Profit from day one.

YOU'RE BETTER OFF with a KICK-ASS HALF
— than a —

HALF-ASSED WHOLE

Embrace Constraints. Cut your ambition in half.

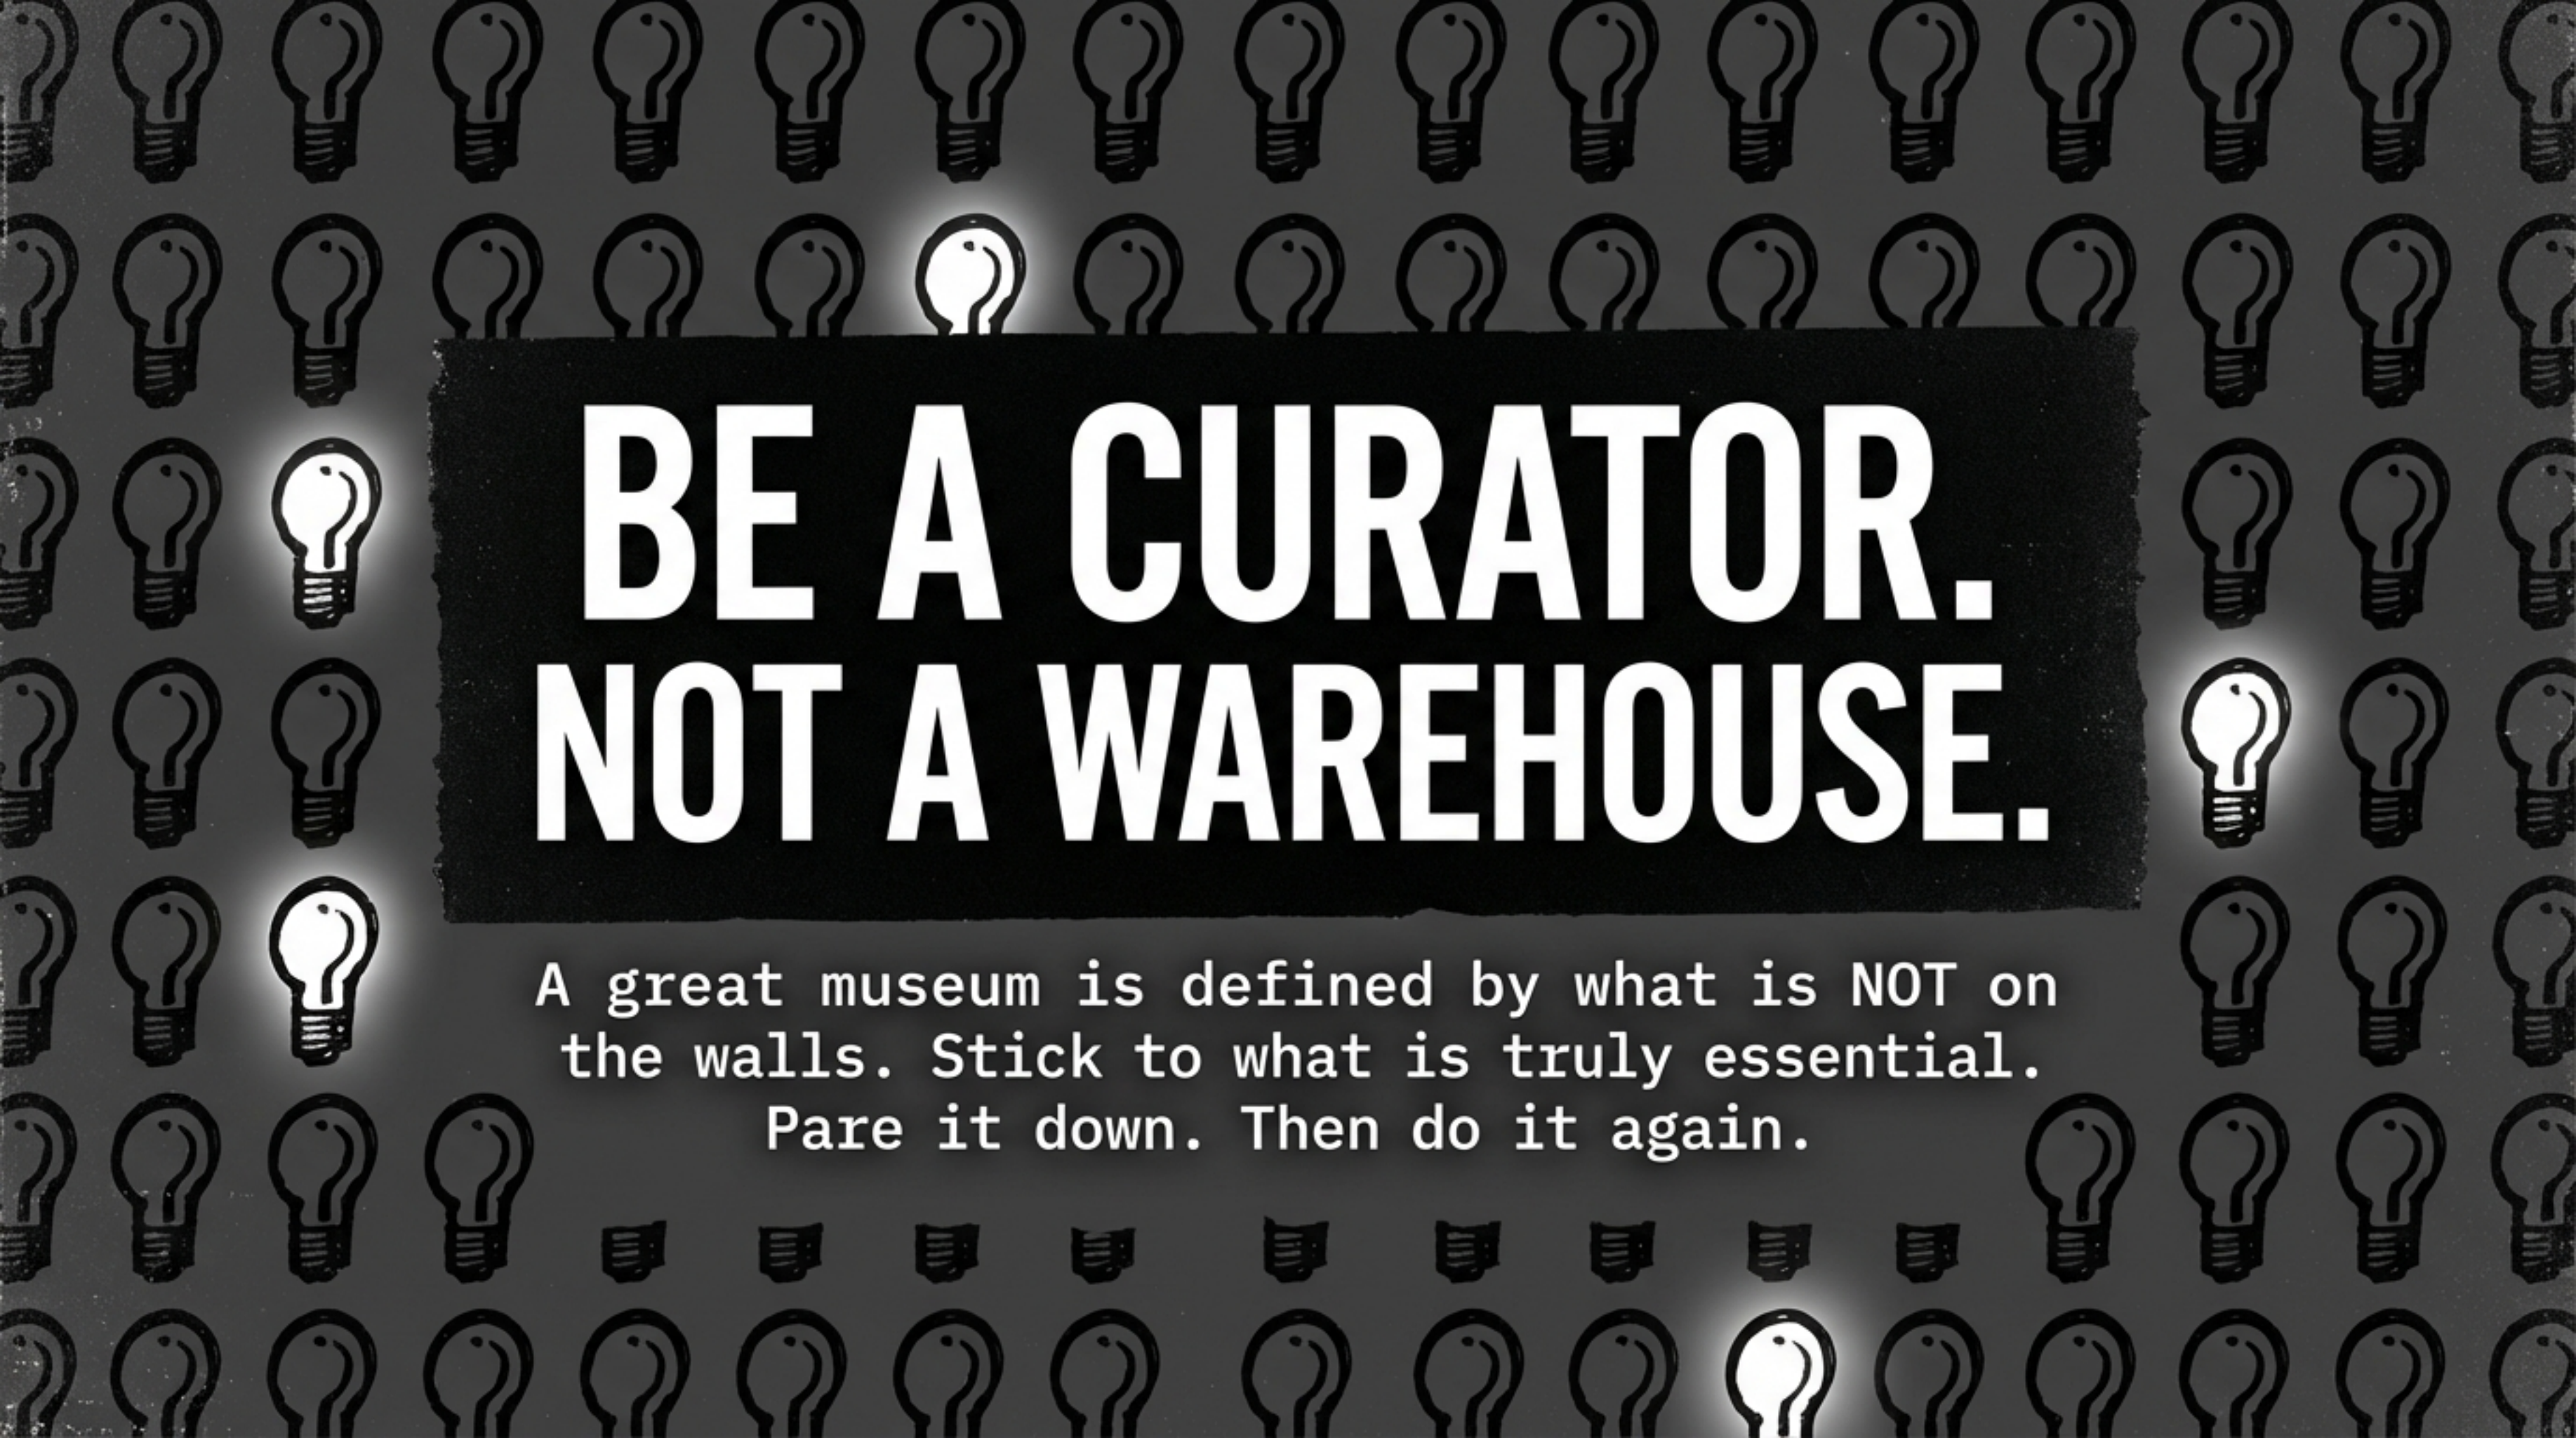

FIND THE EPICENTER

The one thing that, if removed, destroys the product.

Example: The Hot Dog Stand.

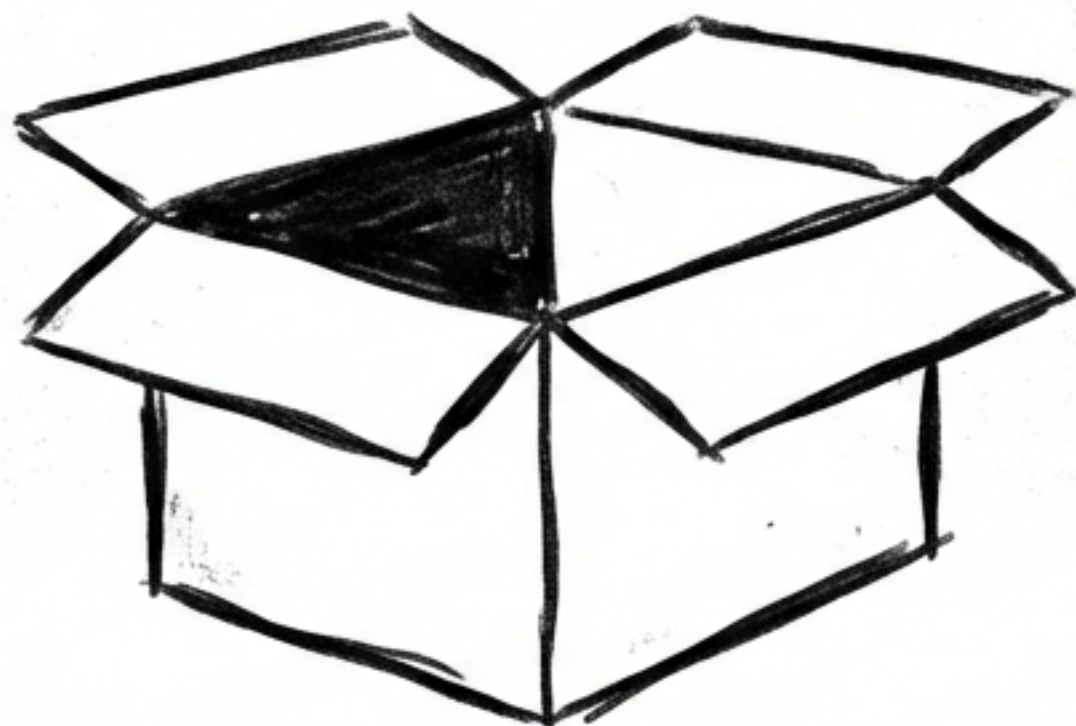

No napkins? Fine.
No cart? Fine.
No Hot Dog?
Game Over.

BE A CURATOR. NOT A WAREHOUSE.

A great museum is defined by what is NOT on the walls. Stick to what is truly essential.
Pare it down. Then do it again.

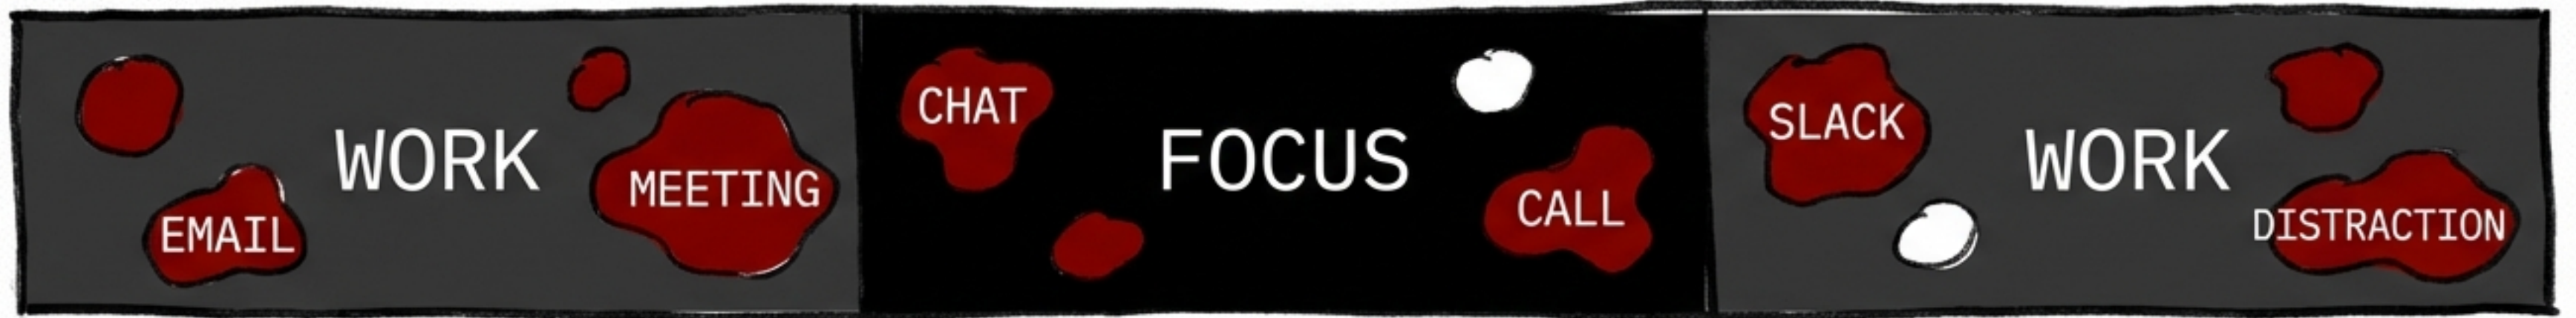

GET
IT OUT THERE!

If you had to launch in two weeks, what would you cut?

Stop imagining what will work. Find out for real.

PRODUCTIVITY

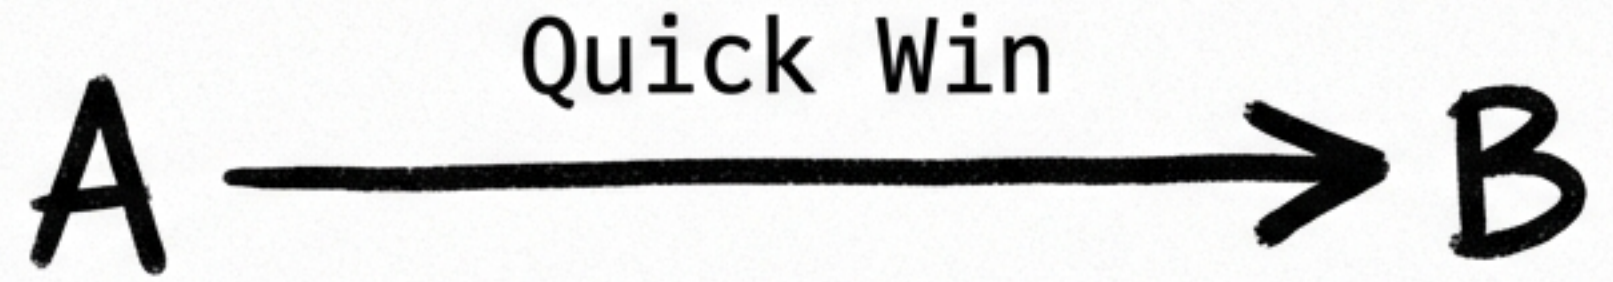

You work late because you didn't get work done at work. Fight for the Alone Zone.

1 Hour x 10 People
= 10 Hours Lost.

- Set a timer.
- Invite fewer people.
- End with a solution.

GOOD ENOUGH IS FINE.

Find a Judo Solution. Maximum efficiency with minimum effort.

Heroism is an ego trip.
Sleep is a strategy.

INSPIRATION IS PERISHABLE.

1. Ignore the Real World.
2. Planning is Guessing.
3. Scratch Your Own Itch.
4. Start Making Something.
5. Embrace Constraints.
6. Meetings are Toxic.
7. Good Enough is Fine.
8. Don't be a Hero.
9. Launch Now.

It's time to rework work.
